One of Rotary International's first service projects in the early 1900s was to build a public latrine in downtown Chicago. Fast forward more than 100 years, and Rotarians are still making life easier for others. Shawn's part is selling cleaning supplies. Last year his company sold enough toilet paper to stretch from Downtown Cleveland to Rotary headquarters in Chicago 10 times.

						1	Rotarians plant trees, clean up water sources and serve as stewards of the environment. They use their many talents to promote understanding, goodwill and peace. Douglas joined Rotary to reap the rewards of Service Above Self. He notes that landscaping is hard work, but the wheelbarrow makes it easier. He likens Rotary to the wheelbarrow – it is the vehicle that makes life's difficult tasks easier. Douglas J. Maurer President Brian-Kyles Construction Inc. Rotarians have always combined hard work with fun activities. The balance between fellowship and service encourages long-lasting friendships and important business partnerships. Dave understands the core of his community relies on the good acts of its citizens and its business owners. Rotary supports both.

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise. Paul joined Rotary to be among friends united in the ideal of Service Above Self. "I truly believe that it's not enough just doing the right things for others; it's about the motive behind why we are doing those things."

Benefits of belonging to The Rotary Club of North Ridgeville:

Networking

An original goal of Rotary was to allow club members to meet periodically and enlarge their circle of business and professional acquaintances. As members of the oldest service club in the world, Rotarians represent a cross-section of our community's business owners, executives, managers, political leaders and professionals – people who make decisions and influence policy.

Service

Club members have many opportunities for humanitarian service, both locally and internationally. Service programs address concerns such as health care, hunger, poverty, illiteracy and the environment. Rotarians regularly experience the fulfillment that comes from giving back to the community. A few examples would be the flagpoles at the Shady Drive Complex and Safetyville.

Friendship

Rotary was founded on fellowship - a cornerstone that continues to attract members today. Rotarians enjoy camaraderie with like-minded professionals and club projects provide opportunities to develop enduring friendships. Club members who travel have friendly contacts in almost every city of the world.

Family

Rotary sponsors some of the world's largest exchange and educational programs. Rotary clubs provide innovative training opportunities and mentoring for young leaders and they involve family members in a wide range of social and service activities.

Ethics

Encouraging high ethical standards and respect for all worthy vocations has been a hallmark of Rotary from its earliest days. In their business and professional lives, Rotarians abide by The Four-Way Test:

Of the things we think, say or do:

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Leadership

Rotary is an organization of successful professionals. Team-building, fund raising, public speaking, planning, organization and communication are just some of the leadership skills that club members can exercise and enhance. Being a Rotary leader provides further experience in motivating, inspiring and guiding others.
